Information to Share (spend 5 minutes on this section)

Singing grace is a long-time tradition of Girl Scouts.

In Girl Scouts, we value and respect all different beliefs and backgrounds. When we sing grace, we are showing our appreciation for what we have, usually focusing on delicious food. Grace is traditionally sung before a meal or a snack. Grace is also an opportunity for Girl Scouts to express joy together, and share in a sense of happiness and gratefulness.

FAQs:

Q: Is Girl Scouts teaching religion through singing grace?

A: No. Girl Scouts is not affiliated with any religion/religious beliefs. Grace is about expressing joy and appreciation for what we have in our lives.

Q: What if the grace says “God”?

A: Girl Scouts of the USA makes no attempt to define or interpret the word “God” in signing grace, or in saying the Girl Scout Promise. It looks to individual members to establish for themselves the nature of their own spiritual beliefs. When making the Girl Scout Promise or singing grace, individuals may substitute wording appropriate to their own spiritual beliefs for the word “God.” This is included here to remind you, as a volunteer, that it’s your responsibility to be sensitive to the spiritual beliefs of the girls in your group and make sure that everyone in the group feels comfortable and included in Girl Scouts.

- ✓ Remember, when teaching a song, it is best to follow this outline:
  1. Sing the whole thing once through while the group listens.
  2. Sing a line, and have the group sing it back to you. Do this for each line of the song.
  3. Sing the whole song together.
  4. Repeat if desired.
